

The whole point behind a do-not-call list is so that those of us on it _are not called_. Any method of providing license to disregard the list defeats its purpose and benefits no one but the telemarketers. Not only do I want the New Jersey law to stand unweakened, but I'd like to see a similar law against postal solicitation implemented.